Project Abstract: The main objective is to prepare a complete NRHP updated nomination (Amendment) for Little Bighorn Battlefield NM, Montana. To effectively promote the identification and preservation of the cultural resources of the U. S., the National Park Service (NPS) must promote the survey and identification of significant cultural resources. Under the National Register programs of the National Park Service, the NPS collects data about the significant historic resources of this Nation. The survey and collection of this data will provide for the identification of those properties most worthy of preservation, especially under the National Register of Historic Places listing.

This project is to update the park's National Register of Historic Places nomination, completing a National Register Amendment form that covers change in Period of Significance, addition of landscape elements and features, and adds Mission 66 contributing resources. The purpose is to complete a NRHP nomination (Amendment) that meets professional standards and guidelines.

The project will entail historic research necessary to complete the Amendment, and the preparation of narrative and graphics as needed for new sections for Sections 7 and 8, and other sections as needed. This and other work will follow the guidelines for preparation of NRHP nominations set forth in the National Register Bulletin, "Preparing National Register Nominations."
