Project Abstract:

The student will perform Web and database searches; literature searches; identification of pertinent text; compile information from texts, interviews, meetings, presentations, and other events; creation of charts, graphs and tables; manage images; assemble draft summary documents to be used as modules or portions of larger documents that will set the strategy for Servicewide NPS actions regarding Research Learning Centers. Work will require logistical tasks, editing, use of "off-the-shelf" computer programs, as well as other standard office conduct. The student, Christina Miller, will also serve as the recorder during the Yellowstone discussion workshop on research and science agendas, to be held in October 2005.

Outcomes with Completion Dates:

Draft modules for funding, research, outreach, operations, partnerships, and outreach strategies.
